Just received Blenko's blended coffee fresh, 15 and 25c pound. Try it.

T. G. Locke.

We don't think any one in this section took advantage of St. Patrick's day (last Saturday) to plant their early potatoes. Mr. Frank Hess, who is an early bird, but not the kind we find on tobacco labels, had a large lot of seed potatoes cut and ready for planting on that day, but the press of other business such as shoveling snow about 18 inches deep, took up all his time and compelled him to postpone planting to a later day. Mr. Will Hite started out to plant a few, but a ten foot snow drift at the garden gate turned him back.

We learn that Mr. Filmore Robinson, the contractor, has finished the road in the lower Fort and has made a model road of it. The people of that section are much pleased with the work. Mr. Robinson also has the contract for and is now completing a new road from Mr. Morgan Schumaker's residence to the town of Town's Brook. It will be a fine piece of work when finished, and will be highly appreciated by all who use it. There is no reason why all the principal roads in Shenandoah should not be good.

For sale or rent a very desirable house with excellent out buildings, also garden and lot with a large amount of fruit thereon.

At Schmitt's Drug Store.

Charlie Hotel who resides on the river a short distance southeast of town, had the good fortune to kill a fine fat wild goose on Thursday evening of last week. He heard the geese on the river, and getting his gun hurried down to the river bank where he found a flock of six. As the flock flew by him "Killer" shot at them with the above result. A short time before Mr. John Smoke, who lives on the river just above Mr. Hotel, had the luck to kill a nice plump goose from the same flock.

Mrs. Harriett Evans, Hinsdale, Ill., writes, "I never fail to relieve my children from cramp at once by using One Minute Cough Cure. I would not feel safe without it." Quickly cures coughs, colds, gripple and all throat and lung disease. L. R. Irwin.

The Publishers of "Great Pictures" in presenting the March issue, have excelled both in a literary as well as an artistic sense, the cover design by J. Ross Byson, being especially attractive. Each chapter of Dr. Shufeldt's article, "Studies of the Human Form" grows more interesting, and the illustrations are particularly instructive. Walter Perkins' installment of "Piano Technique" continues to hold the reader, while the incidental articles are especially adapted to artists. The publishers continue to maintain the high standard in the reproductions of famous paintings. Sample copies, 15 cents. The White City Art Co., 415 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

Eight Thousand Birds on Hats.

Milford, Del. March 7.—Contractors were closed here today by the heaviest snow yet to be seen in New York. The contractors all for meadow larks, bluebirds, red-wing blackbirds, crows, blackbirds, English sparrows and baby wits.

If the Delaware farmers don't shoot these brutes when they find them killing birds on their lands they will deserve to have their crops utterly destroyed by insects.

But if the degraded creatures who kill these birds for money deserve the severest punishment that can be meted out to them what should be done with professing christian women who wear these dead birds on their hats from vanity?

Try Company.

The 22nd anniversary of the Try Company will be held at the Presbyterian church on the first Friday in April, at 7 p. m. Public cordially invited.

A Singular Accident.

Mr. A. J. Boyer, of Powell's Fort met with a singular and serious accident last Monday night. The information which reached us is that Mr. B. was engaged in carpenter work during the day and had in his clothes a little over four inches in length. That night, he ran against a post and the nail head forced penetrated his person. Dr. Irwin and Ford performed an operation on Tuesday and succeeded in extracting the nail. At last accounts, Mr. Boyer was improving.

Brave Men Fall.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney trouble as well as women, and all the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, headache, nervousness, head ache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run-down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at B. Newell's Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

FORGET ME NOT.

Obituary.

CLARENCE MCKAY VAN PELT.

Clarence McKay, the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Van Pelt, of south Mulhearn street, died shortly before noon on Monday, after a severe illness of pneumonia resulting from whooping cough. He was a bright and winsome little fellow four and a half years old, and sorely bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of a large circle of sincere friends in their time of sorrow.

The funeral took place at 2 o'clock Wednesday, and afternoon, and in the absence of the parents' pastor, Rev. J. C. Jones, was conducted by Rev. Dr. P. D. Stephenson.

A DOUBLE AFFLICTION.

The family of Mr. Jas. Stanton has just passed through a severe double affliction. On last Friday their little son, John, aged 5 years, 3 months and 14 days died. This affliction was followed two days afterward by the death of their infant child, DeFord, aged 46 days.

At the time, Mrs. Stanton was quite sick and Mr. Stanton, though moving about, was not well.

The bodies of the children were buried at Union Forge cemetery.

In their deep afflictions the family received the sincere sympathy and active aid of a large number of friends, to whom they requested us to return their sincere thanks.

MRS. REBECCA FLETCHER.

Mrs. Rebecca Fletcher died in Winchester on last Tuesday. She was born in Woodstock on Dec. 26th, 1802. She was a daughter of Capt. John Ignatius Effinger, who at one time during the Revolutionary war, commanded the body guard of Gen. Geo. Washington. Capt. John Ignatius von Effinger, as his name was written at that time, came to this country with the Hessians, and immediately espoused the cause of the officers in the Continental army. He afterwards settled in Woodstock, married here and was the progenitor of the large and influential family of Effingers, many of which now resides in the Shenandoah Valley. Mrs. Fletcher was an intelligent old lady. Her mind was clear and her memory retentive to the time of her death. She probably was better personally acquainted with the history of the lower valley than any other person. A niece, Mrs. Peter Snodgrass, and a number of her relatives reside in this place.

Mr. H. K. Green of our firm will be in Woodstock at the Geary Hotel Thursday afternoon and Friday, March 29th, and 30th, with a line of our samples of Spring Dyes, Good Silk, Trimmings and other Novelties. You are invited to call and inspect our showing.

J. B. ROSS & SONS, WOODSTOCK, VA.

Wall Paper.

I have a fine lot of samples of wall paper which will be sold at rock bottom prices. These goods are manufactured by a house, not in the trust.

Jno. W. Fravel, Woodstock, Va.

Which is Correct?

We publish the age of Mrs. Fletcher, who died at Winchester last Tuesday, as it is recorded in the Effinger family bible, now owned by Mr. Snodgrass, a grand-daughter of Capt. John I. Effinger. The Winchester paper gave her age as 99, instead of 97 as we have it.

School Exhibition.

School Exhibition will be held at Hotel's School House, on Thursday and Friday nights, 29th and 30th insts.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Mr. John Sheetz killed a hog about 3 weeks ago, which weighed 800 lbs. This was the largest hog killed in this county, this season.

THE FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

The Farmers' Institute for Shenandoah County was organized last Thursday. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, there was a fine attendance of representative farmers from nearly all sections of the county.

Mr. J. L. Wisler, of Ashby District, was elected President and Mr. W. H. Newman, of Johnston District, Secretary.

An address of welcome was delivered by Hon. M. L. Walton.

Mr. C. W. Weaver, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, presided.

State Commissioner of Agriculture G. W. Koonz delivered an interesting address, explaining the operation of the Board, and contended that the tax of fifteen cents per ton upon fertilizers would not increase the price to Virginia farmers, because other states had placed a higher tax upon fertilizers and the manufacturers had already advanced their prices to meet this tax.

Prof. Alwood, of the State Agricultural College, delivered two able addresses upon fruit culture, including the location and planting of orchards, pruning trees, insects, spraying, etc.

The address was well worth the attention of every farmer and fruit grower.

Prof. S. B. Hedges, Director of Institutions of Pennsylvania, delivered an address upon the American hen, which was both interesting and instructive.

Mr. B. F. Richards, of Strasburg, read a paper on sheep raising.

Mr. L. S. Walker read an excellent paper on good roads and road making.

An executive committee consisting of the President and Messrs. C. O. Miller, J. G. Neff, Kirby Bowman, W. H. Newman and W. J. Keller was appointed.

The farmers who attended the Institute were delighted with the proceedings, and if we can judge the future by the interest manifested in this meeting, it will be necessary for future Institutes to have a hall larger than any in Shenandoah County. We would suggest that the Fair Grounds, or some grove would be the best place for the next meeting.

The Farmers' Institute is a delightful and profitable place to spend one or two days. Besides the farmer should have his wife and children with him. If any one is of the opinion that children will not be benefited by hearing the lectures and discussions of these subjects he is much mistaken. Many a man's success in life has been the result of a single remark that started the boy to thinking.
